DR. CALISCH RABBI FOR TWENTY YEARS

Anniversary Will Be on Morning of Jewish New Year's Day.

SPECIAL SERVICE PLANNED

"These Twenty Years" Topic of Saturday Sermon by Minister.

Rounding out an even score of years as rabbi of Beth Ahabah Synagogue on the morning of Jewish New Year's Day, Rosh Hashanah, Rev. E. N. Calisch, Ph. D., will preach next Saturday morning on the subject of "These Twenty Years." The service at Beth Ahabah observing Rosh Hashanah will begin Friday night at 8 o'clock. At that time Dr. Calisch will preach on "The Measuring Staff of Life." The service Saturday will begin at 10 o'clock.

The regular choir will be augmented by additional voices under the direction of Moses May, while Professor Jacob Reinhardt will act as organist. Elaborate preparations have been made to make the services impressive and beautiful.

Will Be Holy Day.

Rosh Hashanah will be observed as a holy day by the Jews on the evening of Friday, until sunset, on Saturday. The orthodox Jew observes also the so-called "second day" on Sunday.

The biblical basis for the observance of the first day of Tishri as a New Year's Day and the most solemn day of the Jewish calendar, according to Yom Pippur, or the Day of Atonement, is found in the reference to a Zikkaron ("memorial day") in Leviticus xliii. 24, which reads: "In the seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of the blowing of trumpets, a holy convocation."

Extra also refers to the day as one "holy to the Lord." (Neh. vii. 9.)

Not a mere day of rejoicing, like the secular New Year, is this Rosh Hashanah. It is a day of memorial or a day of remembrance, reminding the Jew of the duty of self-examination and self-judgment.

To arouse the conscience to this solemn task the ceremony of sounding the Shofar, or ram's horn, forms an important feature of the service. Among the orthodox Jews attainment of this object is also sought by setting aside a few days before the New Year's Day for the recital, in the synagogue, of penitential prayers called Selihot. This continues until the eve of the day of atonement. These Selihot (chanted in the minor key) before dawn in the dimly lit houses of worship sound the note of grief and contrition for the sins of the past year.

Cast Sins in Sea.

In many places the curious ceremony of Tashlich, originating perhaps with the German Jews not earlier than the fourteenth century, is observed in the afternoon of New Year's Day. The worshippers congregate near a running stream, where, on the eighteenth or twentieth verses of the ninth chapter of Micah are intoned, ending with the phrase which no doubt suggested the ceremony, "Thou wilt cast all thy sins into the depths of the sea."

After the solemn services on the evening of Friday and the morning of Saturday, the Hebrew greeting is heard on all sides, signifying "A good year," or "Mayest thou be inscribed (in the Book of Life) for a good year." In later years a custom has appeared of sending to friends New Year's greeting cards of various designs, colors and inscriptions. When the festival is made an occasion of social and domestic rejoicing.

This marks the beginning of the year 5672.

HIT ON HEAD BY SLEDGE HAMMER

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Clifton Forge, Va., September 15.—Frank Wiseman was seriously injured here to-day while at work on the repair tracks of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. A sledge hammer rebounded and struck Wiseman on the head. He is in the local hospital, and fears for his recovery are entertained.

W. R. Driscoll, of Princeton, W. Va., who attempted to take his life in Covington yesterday, was brought here in a critical condition to be treated in the city. Driscoll broke a lamp and used the glass to cut his throat. The chances for his recovery are slight. His wife and children were notified, and they arrived here to-night.

Married and Unmarried Ladies

Will Find Some Useful Advice in the Words of Mrs. Jay McGee of Stephenville.

Stephenville, Tex.,—"For nine years," says Mrs. Jay McGee, of this place, "I suffered from womanly troubles. I had terrible headaches and pains in my back, etc.

My husband suggested Cardui to me, but I did not think anything would do me any good.

It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so! At last I consented to try Cardui, and it seemed to help me right away. I was interested and continued its use.

The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me.

It will do the same for all sick and suffering girls or women—both married and unmarried.

I will always praise Cardui highly, for it has been the means of saving my life and giving me good health."

Half a century of success, with thousands of cures, similar to the one described above, amply prove Cardui's real, scientific, medicinal merit.

Being purely vegetable, Cardui can be taken safely by young and old, and can do nothing but good. Its action is very gentle, and without any bad after effects.

Why not benefit by the experience of others? Try it to-day.
